

STORM IN MICHIGAN WROUGHT HAVOC

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY WIND AND RAIN.

Town of Homer Suffers Severely—Fears of an Increased Death List From the Colorado Cloudburst—Dubuque Just Escapes a Tornado—Other Storm News.

Homer, Mich., July 27.—A terrible windstorm struck this village Sunday evening. Roofs were lifted, houses partly blown away, barns tipped over and over half of the fine maple trees about the town were blown over. The worst part of the cyclone seemed to have passed a little to the northwest of the town, and many of the finest farmhouses in this vicinity lay in its path. There were several narrow escapes of persons caught out in the storm, but as yet no one is reported as injured.

Golden, Col., July 27.—A large gang of workmen have begun the repairing of the Gulf road up Clear Creek canyon. Frank Trumbull, receiver, and the general manager and other officials of the road are here. They said they could not give even an approximate estimate of the damage, but that they will probably be able to get trains through to Georgetown in two weeks. One hundred and seventy-five men are now at work repairing and 100 more will be put on very soon. The road for about seven miles must be almost wholly rebuilt, as the bed is washed out or buried under great masses of rock and dirt. People at Central City and Black Hawk express fears of food becoming scarce before the road is repaired.

Cincinnati, O., July 27.—Though the sky is clear here the change of temperature rushing the mercury high up in the eighties causes apprehension of more rain and an accession to the flood in the Ohio. Reports from all points here in the Ohio river as far as Wheeling show that stream rising. At Cincinnati at 10 o'clock Sunday night the river stood 35 feet 1 inch above high water, having risen thirteen inches in four hours, or three and one-quarter inches per hour.

The rate of rise, moreover, is increasing hourly. Great forces have been employed repairing railroad washouts in Ohio, and it is fair to presume that all the roads embarrassed by the floods will soon resume, except those among the bad washouts in the Muskingum valley.

TORNADO SLIGHTS DUBUQUE.

Iowa Town Flooded and Just Escapes a Tail-Twister.

Dubuque, Iowa, July 27.—A storm of wind and lightning raged here for several hours Sunday. A tornado cloud high in the air passed over the city between 6 and 7, all conditions for a tornado being observed at that time. It is thought that great damage has been done to the railroads. There is a bad washout on the Illinois Central near Julien.

Denver, Col., July 27.—So far as ascertained the following is a full list of the persons whose lives were lost in the great floods that swept down Bear creek canyon upon the towns of Morrison and Golden in the foot-hills near Denver last night:

Dead at Morrison: Mrs. Moses Miller and three children of Morrison, Mrs. S. A. Proctor, Robert James Proctor, Grace Proctor, Edith Proctor, Mrs. T. F. Casey, James Casey, Edith Casey, Mamie Casey, Annie Casey, Clara Casey, Mrs. Anthony Herres, Eugene Herres, Mabel Herres, Josephine Herres, Carroll Herres, all of Denver; Thomas McGough, Dayton, O.; Anna Hansen, child of J. C. Longnecker.

Some reports say that when Bear creek canyon is fully explored it will probably be found that no less than fifty people perished in the flood. Great anxiety is felt by many families in this city, members of which were camping in the mountains.

Demands of Trade Unionists.

London, July 27.—The international socialist workers and trade union congress, which meets in London to-day to sit the rest of the week, is expected to bring together representatives of the largest number of socialistic organizations, trade unions and semi-educational societies ever assembled in one body. One proposition, which is advanced by no less than half a dozen European organizations, relates to war between civilized countries. The Fabian society declares that war is but the product of the rich, and is always fought out by the poor.

Governors All Sent a Brick.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 27.—The corner stone of the home for dependent ex-slaves was put in place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with appropriate exercises. An immense crowd was present and included persons from five states. Before the programme began there was an immense street parade. The home has the indorsement of the governors of thirty-four states, and each contributed a brick. Gov. Jackson of Iowa making the first contribution. Twenty-five thousand school children contributed 1 cent each. The buildings will cost $75,000.

POPULISTS INDORSE BRYAN.

Convention at St. Louis Brought to an End Saturday.

St. Louis, Mo., July 27.—One ballot was enough to nominate William J. Bryan of Nebraska for president at the people's party national convention Saturday.

But one candidate was put up against him, and that was Col. S. F. Norton, of Chicago. Bryan received 1,047 votes and Norton 331. Ignatius Donnelly got 3 votes, Eugene V. Debs 8 and J. S. Coxey 1. Texas was defiant to the last. "Stump" Ashby, the leader of the Lone Star malcontents, announced "Texas casts her 103 votes for Norton," and he gave it in a tone and manner which left no doubt that Texas did not regard herself defeated. Following is the vote by states:

Donnelly got 1 vote in Connecticut and 2 in Ohio. Debs got 8 in Ohio; Coxey got 1 in Ohio.

The vote was announced at 4:30 o'clock, and as soon as the demonstration had quieted down the chairman declared Mr. Bryan the nominee of the convention. A motion to adjourn was put, and the convention was over. After the convention adjourned a committee was appointed to draft an address to the populist party, indicating the attitude of the "middle of the road" men in regard to the ticket. In the evening the people's party national committee held its first meeting. Senator Butler of North Carolina was elected chairman, receiving 65 votes on the second ballot. The address of the "middle of the road" men was handed in. It asked the committee what it proposed doing in case Bryan would not accept the nomination, and also if it was the intention of the committee to take Watson off the ticket.

DECLINES TO RUN.

Maine Nominee for Governor Says He Cannot Be for Both Gold and Silver.

Portland, Me., July 27.—E. B. Winslow, the democratic candidate for governor, made public two letters Sunday. One notified him of his nomination as governor by the democratic state convention. In this letter the loyal support of the democracy of Maine was pledged to Mr. Winslow. To this letter he replied, declining the nomination. He said:

"The platform adopted by the state convention, which has declared for a single gold standard, is plain and it was upon that platform that I was nominated. The democratic national convention adopted a platform declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and there was a strong pressure brought to bear to have me announce myself in favor of the national convention, which I did not consider was right to do in accepting the nomination as it was tendered to me by the state convention.

"I have given no expressions up to the present time as to what I should do, but have given the matter a great deal of thought and study, and see but one thing for me to do and stand as I wish to with the people of Maine. That is to decline the nomination so kindly tendered me, and I assure you that no one regrets this more than I do. EDWARD S. WINSLOW."

Sunk with All on Board.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 27.—Information received from Stanley, F. I., under date of June 9, proves that the ship which foundered off that locality on May 14 was the Philadelphia clipper City of Philadelphia, and that Capt. Johnson, his wife and family, one passenger, and a crew numbering in all twenty-five men, perished.

IRON MILLS RESUME AT PITTSBURG, PA.

MANY IDLE MEN TO BE PUT TO WORK.

At Least Ten Thousand Will Be Given Employment—Striking New York Tailors Remain Firm—Cleveland Trouble May Be Settled Before Many Days.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 27.—To-day occurred the beginning of a resumption of iron mills, which will soon put to work at least 10,000 idle men. It is estimated that at least that number are interested in the settlement of the wage scale with the Ohio manufacturers at Youngstown Saturday night. The success of the Amalgamated Association in making the wage settlement means that the men employed in non-union mills will get an advance in their wages and their employers will sign agreements to pay them the union prices. This comes as near a recognition of the union as the men are contending for at the present time. The conference was with the Ohio association, but plants in several other states will be started under the agreement. The firms who signed the scale are as follows: Andrews Brothers and Company, Hazleton, Ohio; Brown, Bonnell & Co., Hazleton, Ohio; Brown, Bonnell Co., four plants at Youngstown, Ohio; Union Iron and Steel Company, two plants at Youngstown, one at Warren, and one at Girard; Mahoning Valley Iron Company, two plants at Youngstown; Falcon Iron and Nail Company, Niles, Ohio; Coleman, Shields & Co., Niles, Ohio; Eagle Iron and Steel Company, Ironton, Ohio; Union Rolling Mill Company, Cleveland; Carnes & Sons Company, Massillon; Cherry Valley Iron Company, Leetonia, Ohio; Etna Standard Iron Company, Bridgeport, Ohio; Central Iron and Steel Company, Brazil, Ind.; Indiana Iron Company, Muncie, Ind.; Weatherall Rolling Mill Company, Franklin, Ind.; Birmingham Rolling Mill Company, Birmingham, Ala.; Alabama Rolling Mill Company, Gate City, Ala.; Sharon Iron Company, Sharon, Pa.; Struthers Iron Company, Struthers, Ohio; Pomeroy Iron Company, Pomeroy, Ohio.

New York Tailors Firm.

New York, July 27.—An all-day meeting was held by the striking tailors of this city Sunday. The substance of the remarks made by the various speakers was to the effect that no compromise with the contractors should be made, and that the strikers must stand firm and accept nothing but victory. It is estimated that fully 20,000 hands are now idle on account of the strike in this city and vicinity. Commissioner Charles L. Phipps, chairman of the state board of arbitration, has visited the leaders on both sides of the controversy, and an effort is now being made to induce all to arbitrate.

Truck Store Tyranny.

Hazleton, Pa., July 27.—There is much uneasiness among the employees of the Silver Brook Coal Mining Company at Silver Brook and serious trouble seems imminent. It is due to the action of the company in evicting those miners from the company's houses who do not patronize sufficiently the company store, known as the "Silver Brook Supply Company store." The miners are first told that they are not leaving enough money in the store, and if they do not increase the amount they are given ten days to leave the house.

Flag of Truce at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 27.—It is believed by the leaders of the strike at the Brown Holsting works that terms of settlement between the men and the company will be agreed upon within a day or two, and that work will be resumed before the end of the week. Propositions have been made which are likely to be accepted, but the locked-out men refuse to give the terms of the settlement.

PRESIDENT TO SPEAK.

Cleveland Said to Be Preparing to Repudiate the Chicago Ticket.

Washington, July 27.—The silence of the president on the political situation has been a matter of much concern, not only to Washington politicians, but to democrats both east and west, north and south. A near friend of the president, and one who has seen him recently, said yesterday that within the next ten days President Cleveland would be heard from, in fact, that the president is now preparing a statement which will be made public inside of two weeks which is nothing more nor less than a repudiation of the Chicago platform and of the nominees. This gentleman further said that the president was much disappointed at the action of the convention, and that he will use all of his political strength to defeat the ticket. In order to do this, the president prefers to see a third ticket placed in the field.

The forthcoming statement will state most emphatically the president's views on the silver question and will, without doubt, touch upon the other points in the platform.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN IS NOW LAID OUT

MANAGER HANNA OUTLINES HIS WORK.

And Protection To Be Made the Main Issue—National Chairman Explains His Position in Regard to Labor—General Political News of the Country.

Canton, O., July 27.—The plan of the republican campaign has been agreed upon by Chairman Hanna and Major McKinley. An effort is to be made first to counteract the free-silver movement. The campaign is to be on "educational" lines, and an immense amount of literature is to be distributed to add weight to the political speeches made on the circuit. The trend of the speeches to be delivered thus far by Major McKinley has been towards the protection issue.

Chairman Hanna will be in New York Tuesday to meet the national committee to confer in regard to important questions of the campaign. The ostensible purpose of the visit and conference is to select headquarters. It is said that Cornelius N. Bliss will be appointed treasurer of the national committee early this week.

Cleveland, O., July 27.—Chairman Hanna of the republican committee will start for New York tonight. A story was published here Saturday to the effect that Mr. Hanna had arranged to meet the president of the central labor union for the purpose of discussing the meet the president of the central labor, and that the labor union's president had refused to meet Mr. Hanna. As to the truth of the story Mr. Hanna said he had been asked if he was willing to meet Mr. Witt of the central labor union, and he had replied that he was. The question was asked because the central labor union has propounded to Mr. Hanna a series of queries affecting his relations with labor. Mr. Hanna said he heard nothing more about the matter, and Mr. Witt failed to call. That was all there was to it.

IOWA DEMOCRATS.

Candidate Bryan May Attend the State Convention at Ottumwa.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 27.—It is announced that Judge A. A. Van Wageningen of Sioux City, who was one of the leaders of the Boies forces at the Chicago convention, will be temporary chairman of the Democratic state convention to nominate a state ticket, which will be held at Ottumwa Aug. 12. No talk of candidates is heard, the free silver democrats being mainly engaged in making plans and selecting leaders for the different congressional contests. It is probable that the silver men will be in control at Ottumwa.

Candidate Bryan has been urged to attend and make a speech. He has replied that he is in the hands of the campaign committee, but Mr. Walsh thinks the committee will send him to Ottumwa. In that case special trains will be run and an ovation tendered the free silver candidate.

Indiana Populists.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 27.—The state convention of the populist party meets in this city Wednesday for the purpose of adopting a platform and nominating a state ticket. That a considerable element in the populist ranks is in favor of indorsing the national democratic ticket there is no doubt, but another element, led by the populist editors of the state, are bitterly opposed to such an indorsement and will make a stiff fight against it in the convention. Leading populists who favor indorsement of the democrats say that it is folly to put up a ticket in the field under present conditions.

"Sound Money" Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 27.—The movement among the "sound money" democrats to secure the national convention for this city is taking definite shape and when the committee meets here Aug. 7 no pains will be spared to convince the members that Indianapolis will be abundantly able to take care of the delegates. Gold democrats believe that the meeting of the convention here would result in great good to the cause, as its moral effect would be advantageous and, besides it would give to the city another distinction in a campaign which is to be waged for "sound money."

Tennessee Populists to Meet.

Nashville, Tenn., July 27.—The gubernatorial convention of the populist party meets in this city Tuesday. Since the action taken by the populist convention at St. Louis public interest has increased touching the probable action of this state convention.

Pingree's Foes Take Action.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 27.—It is declared that the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Company has warned its employees against the nomination of Mayor Pingree of Detroit for governor. A notice to that effect, signed by the master mechanic, was posted at the car shops, where 400 or 500 men are employed last week.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Standing of the Clubs Composing the Three Principal Leagues.

The Chicago team recovered from its threatened relapse just in time. It was a great game that they played yesterday. Cincinnati's decisive defeat of her rival, Cleveland, was an important epoch in the championship race, throwing Cleveland down to third place, as Baltimore won in St. Louis. Hanlon's men seem to have struck another winning streak. They play a series in Boston, beginning tomorrow. Yesterday's games brought the eastern clubs' series in the west per.

WATSON DECLARES HIMSELF.

Will Make the Race, Even If Mr. Sewall Does Not Withdraw.

New York, July 27.—The World publishes the following signed dispatch from Thompson, Ga., signed Thomas E. Watson:

"To the questions asked me I reply as follows:

"1. I will run the race to the end.

"2. I will make the fight even if Mr. Sewall does not withdraw.

"3. My opinion of the Fifty-Second Congress, which was arraigned in my book, has undergone no change.

"4. I am not a political trader, and will not resign in Sewall's favor, even if offered a Cabinet position."

Iowa Populists.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 27.—Delegates who have returned home from the silver and Populist conventions at St. Louis report that there were some important conferences of Iowa men. Leaders of the silver and Populist movements in all the congressional districts of Iowa met and conferred about the congressional outlook in the state. The determination was that the silver party should unite with the silver democrats in making nominations and force the issue all over the state on the currency question. The silver men from Iowa at least were a unit on the subject of fusion; and from all over the state reports were made that the silver democrats will be satisfied to join the other silver elements in such a fight as is proposed.

Indian Trouble Feared.

Guthrie, O. T., July 27.—About two weeks ago the commissioners appointed to investigate Osage township recommended that over 100 half-breeds should be stricken from the rolls, but they submitted separate reports, not being able to agree upon the lists. Secretary Smith has not yet passed upon any of these reports, but the council of the Osage nation, controlled by full-bloods, has in special session passed an act disfranchising all of the half-breeds so reported. The half-breeds declare their intention of voting at the national election, Aug. 3, and trouble is liable to occur.

St. John for Treasurer.

St. Louis, Mo., July 27.—Chairman Jones of the democratic national committee has appointed William P. St. John of New York, who presided over the silver convention, treasurer of the democratic national committee.

FOREST FIRES RAGE IN BADGER STATE

VALUABLE TIMBER DESTROYED BY FLAMES.

The Northwestern Part of Marinette County Is Being Swept By a Conflagration, and the Smoke Can Be Seen For Miles—Much Apprehension Is Felt.

Peshigo, Wis., July 27.—Forest fires are sweeping over a large area in the northwestern part of Marinette county, about the Eagle, one of the main branches of the Peshtigo. It is estimated that nearly four townships have been burned over, the fires being chiefly confined to old slashings, though some valuable standing cedar has been destroyed. The smoke from the fire-swept area can be seen for miles and with a strong wind serious results would be apprehended.

Antigo, Wis., July 27.—The Chicago & Northwestern freight depot and contents were nearly totally destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have originated from sparks from an engine.

Preston, Wis., July 27.—Conkey Bros' roller mill was burned at midnight Sunday. The loss is $30,000; insured for $5,000.

FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Demonstration in London Spotted by Inclement Weather.

London, July 28.—Great preparations had been made for the demonstration in favor of international peace in Hyde park Sunday, under the auspices of the organization committee for the international socialist and trade-union congress, which begins at St. Martin's hall today. The downpour of rain practically made a failure of the demonstration. Simultaneous resolutions were declared carried in favor of international arbitration, of the eight-hour law, of universal suffrage, and of other measures advocated by the socialists, and denouncing "the greed of the ruling privileged classes, who provoke wars in order to control the markets of the world in their own interests." It was further declared that in order to insure peace, the abolition of the capitalist and the landlord system is necessary. P. J. Maguire of the American Federation of Labor was presented at the demonstration.

WILL NOT TALK.

Mr. Bryan Has No Communication to Make to the Public.

Lincoln, Neb., July 27.—At an early hour Sunday, Congressman Francis G. Newlands of Reno, Nev., who stopped en route home from the silver convention, called at the Bryan home and remained there until the family left to attend church services. Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee arrived from St. Louis, at 3:35 p. m. He at once held a conference with Mr. Bryan. When they finished, Mr. Bryan assured the press representatives in waiting, that there was nothing to give out. "We have been discussing plans, but we have decided upon nothing that can be given to the public," said Mr. Bryan. Governor Holcomb returned from the St. Louis convention and was a party to the conference for an hour or more. Senator Stewart was expected, but he did not put in an appearance.

Populist National Headquarters.

St. Louis, Mo., July 27.—Senator Butler, chairman of the populist national committee, said yesterday:

"The selection of the national headquarters has been left to me by the national committee, but I will not be able to make known my decision for several weeks. I shall have to carefully canvass the situation and look into the claims of the various cities mentioned for the place. Those mentioned in the committee were St. Louis, Chicago, Omaha, New York and Washington. The opinion seems to prevail among the members that the selection of some western city would be the best policy."

Vanderbilt Goes to Newport.

Newport, R. I., July 27.—Cornelius Vanderbilt arrived here at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. It was stated that Mr. Vanderbilt had withstood the voyage excellently; that he was much improved in health, and that appearances indicated that he would speedily recover from his recent apopleptic stroke.

CARS PILED UP IN A WASHOUT

Storm Caused a Disastrous Wreck
On the C. & N. W. Road.

THIRTEEN CARS ARE TUMBLED
INTO THE HOLE.

Engineer George Crouse Bravely Stuck

To His Post, and Was Somewhat Injured—Engine Got Across the Chasm, But the Tender Fell In—Much Damage Done By Hail, Rain
and Wind In the County—The City Loss.

Into a pit caused by the washing out of the gravel under the C. & N.
W. rails near the Black Bridge, thirteen freight cars and the tender of an engine plunged last night. Only good fortune and an engineer's coolness prevented a more serious accident, and the loss of life, but as it was as well the train crew did not escape. The injured:

CROUSE, GEORGE, engineer, back and hip injured. Injuries not thought serious. Walked home after being attended to by Dr. W. H. Palmer.

The wrecked train was the regular freight, and was bound from Milton Junction to Janesville. All went well until the Black Bridge, just north of the city limits, was reached, at 11:40 o'clock. Engineer Crouse was keeping a sharp lookout and when the train reached a point two hundred feet below the bridge, a flash of lightning illuminated the track and Engineer Crouse saw a sight that made his heart jump into his mouth.

Put on All Steam.

For a space of twenty feet or more,
there was nothing to support the rails and ties, the track being suspended above a yawning chasm. The rushing water had washed out the road bed, digging a pit fully fifteen feet deep under the track, and fifteen or twenty feet wide. The floods had rushed down the steep hill at the side of the main line, and eaten out the solid roadbed as easily as if it had been made of salt.

Such was the sight that Engineer
Crouse saw in the brief space of time that the flash illuminated the "cut."
But he did not lose his head. He realized that the only thing to do, was to take a chance, and try to get across the break. Accordingly, he put on all steam and the engine bounded forward. Fireman Ed. Gall and Brakeman Ed. Horn, who were in the engine, leaped for their lives, and landed on the solid earth, uninjured.

Cars Piled Up

Engineer Crouse did not loose his hold on the throttle, but stayed in the cab. When he put on all steam, the big machine quivered, and then leaped forward as if realizing the situation.
Onto the unsupported rails it flew, and jolted its way across. Hardly had the big machine reached the solid earth, when the tender sank into the hole, and the engine, freed of its load, darted down the track. A terrific crash announced the fact that only the engine had cleared the washout.
Heavy cars followed the tender into the hole, and in less time than it takes to tell it, the wreck was complete.

Engineer Crouse had been thrown about in the cab, and had sustained painful bruises, and a thorough shaking up. He was brought to town, and after W. H. Palmer had dressed his injuries, he was able to walk to his home, 181 Terrace street. He is not thought to be seriously hurt, although complications may, of course, ensue.

Wreck Piled High.

The trainmen then surveyed the wreck. They saw the tender of the engine firmly embedded in the sand
at the bottom of the pit, while freight cars were piled on top of it. Thirteen cars were crushed in together, and the debris was thrown up nearly as high as the top of the bridge. At the apex of the heap was an immense Armour refrigerator car, with a rail punctured clear through it. On the sidetrack running parallel with the main line, stood about thirty empty cars, which had been stored on the siding to give more room in the city freight yards. These cars, or a part of them rather, had been involved in the wreck when the cars in the train began to pile up. Three of them had been tossed from the siding, and rolled end over end down into the sand pit on the west side of the siding.
They lay at the bottom of the bank
this morning, all being more or less wrecked. The track had been torn up for a distance of thirty feet or more, and the smash-up was the most complete that Janesville people have seen for a long time.

Merchandise Not Perishable.

The contents of the cars were not seriously damaged, as none of the freight was perishable. Most of the cars were loaded with lumber, telegraph poles and building stone, while the big refrigerator car that topped the heap, was loaded with building felt. Thus, none of the goods were of a character to be much damaged.

The wrecking crew was sent out
this morning to clear up the debris, Superintendent Moulton being in charge.

The smash-up blocked the line, so
the train from the north, this morning, and the train from the south, simply exchanged runs, transferring their passengers around the wreck.

Men were at once set to work piling

Railroad men said the wreck would be a hard one to clear up, and the work will probably take all day, or longer.

The St. Paul railway also experienced considerable trouble. There was a bid washout between Shullsburg and Warren, and the passenger from the west, due here at 9:15, did not get in until noon.

THE CROPS SUFFER SEVERELY

Tobacco Was Hit By Hail, and Corn
Laid Low

But the railroads were not the only losers. Untold damage was done to the crops throughout the county, although some sections fared worse than others. Along the line of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul road between here and Edgerton the damage wrought was seen plainly. Corn lay as flat as if a roller had passed over it.
Low spots in the fields were literally lakes.

Grain fields were flooded in many places and shocks of oats stuck out of muddy lakelets, looking very much like muskrat houses.

At the three-mile crossing the storm appeared to have reached its height. Corn and tobacco fields looked worse there than anywhere else on the line. The appearance of fields alongside the track fully justified the report that crops around Barkers Corners had been harshly used.

Trainmen reported severe rain storms with much lightning as far north as Portage, but no hail was reported north of Stoughton.

G. C. Babcock came up from Clinton this morning, and reported Turtle Creek to be at high water mark.
There was much rain around Clinton,
but very little hail and wind.

Went in a Streak.

The hail storm seemed to travel independent of the rain, and covered a strip of county several miles wide.
With it came torrents of rain, and a gale of wind. Tobacco fields in the track of the hail stones, were ruined, the plants being cut to pieces by the falling stones.
Corn also suffered severely, the leaves being stripped from the stalks. North of town the damage was the most extensive, the crops on the farm of George Barker, suffering, probably, the most severely. In the town of Harmony the damage was comparatively light, the storm seeming to have skipped that portion of the county.

Mr. Dennett, who lives two miles west of town, picked up a hail stone that was nine inches long, seven and a half inches wide, and weighing a pound and a quarter, this being the largest stone found, as far as known.

C. & N. W. trainmen report that the fields between here and Evansville presented a sorry sight, the corn and tobacco being leveled to the earth and many of the fields almost entirely under water. The extent of the damage cannot be estimated at present.

Superintendent of Schools Throne
was in town this morning, and reported that several wagon bridges and culverts had been washed out in the vicinity of Afton.

THE DAMAGE IN THIS CITY.

Streets Are Washed Out and Trees Broken Down.

The city did not escape damage.
Many of the drains were too small to carry off the water, and the road-ways were cut out by the floods. On Prospect avenue, quite extensive damage was done. A sewer three feet square carries the water from Bluff street to the river. This sewer became blocked, and the flood of water from the steep hill had no outlet. The gutter at the mouth of the sewer was soon filled up, and then the flood poured down the street. The ground was cut away down to the flag stones forming the top of the sewer, and the sidewalks covered with a coating of sand several inches deep. Other streets were also washed out and cut away, in some cases the damage being quite extensive. The wind doubled up the wheel on the wind-mill on the Hodson property in the Third ward, and it fell with a crash. Many trees were also blown down, and limbs were snapped off with ease by the gale.

River Rose Fifteen Inches.

Westley Allen, who lives near the ice house says that the river rose fifteen inches, above the dam, and that much damage was done to gardens by the flood. Hail stones of immense size were picked up all over town. One Third sample was three inches long, two and a half inches wide and one inch thick. Many basements and vaults were filled to overflowing. Near the Hay Tool company's factory the board walks were twisted about underneath the planks,
and the basements of the leaf warehouses in that vicinity were nearly all filled with water. Considerable damage was done to the tobacco stored in these basements, but the exact extent cannot be told until an examination can be made.

Street Commissioner Watson found many drains to clean out this morning when he made a trip about the city.

WHISTLE TO SOUND FIRE ALARMS.

Water Company and Chief Spencer Make
Out a System of Signals.

Chief Engineer Spencer and Secretary Hyzer, of the Water Company, have made out a system of signals to be blown on the siren whistle at the pumping station as follows:

One whistle—Call for line men.
Two whistles—Fire alarm.
Three whistles—Fire out.

If a second alarm comes in from a box while the department is out the box number will be repeated by the whistle.

HOW BURR ROBBINS GOT CIRCUS FEVER

MOTHER AND A PLUM SWITCH
DID IT.

Got a Severe Whipping For Running Away to See a Show When He Was a Lad, and Thereupon Determined to Own One Himself Some Day.

In a story about early circuses, in
The Chicago Inter Ocean, Burr Robbins tells how he came to embark in that business, as follows:

"My people were very strict Presbyterian, so strict in fact, that the frivolities of the world were frowned
on without any show of leniency.
They lived up to the theory that this life is still a probation to the life beyond, and this required the closest observance to religious forms. We spent the whole day Sunday in divine worship, went to church in the morning, we had a short time for dinner,
then for desert had another praise service which held over until time for the afternoon session, then that began and lasted all the afternoon. I cannot explain how a show bill could have found its way into a community like this; the knowledge must have breathed into the air that a circus was to play in Cleveland, but I learned it some way and determined to risk
my safety by seeing what a real circus was like.

Burr Robbins—His Fate.

I slipped off from home and walked ten miles to the scene of action. I was barely ten years old at the time, and the splendors of it all very nearly upset my boyish mind. The glistening spangles, gauzy tarlatans, and gay colors, the life and noise and music were enough to overbalance any little fellow who had never before known any more exciting diversion than a church social. I was fairly intoxicated with it all. But my delicious rapture did not culminate until the acrobat appeared. If I could have eaten him, or drunk him, or absorbed him in any way, I think I would have done so.
For months after, everything in my dreams twisted and turned and tumbled in emulation of him. But my fall from the clouds was a hard one,
and my suffering was in proportion to what my delight had been. Then came the ten mile walk back home, with a sure prospect of severe punishment when I reached there. It was late in the night when my weary walk
was ended and I crept to my room,
fondly hoping that I might escape until morning; but my father and mother were on the alert for the first sign of my coming, and I was called to an immediate account.

Got the Plum Switch.

To my mother was delegated the momentous trust of inflicting my punishment. She took me into the yard with her while she procured the means of my torture. I remember yet how I watched her as she carefully broke a long three-pronged sprout
from the base of a large plum tree that was growing in the back yard, all the time dilating on the atrocity of my offense and the sorrow she felt in being obliged to hurt me. But she literally wore out both me and the plum-tree switch. With every lick, which was intended to wipe out a part of sin, came a stronger determination to avenge myself by having a show of my own some day and through all my childhood, youth and young manhood that was my guiding star. I think that whipping was probably the determining cause of my choice of life vocation. In after years when I had a circus of my own both my father and mother consented to see it for my sake."

The First, Second, Third and Fourth ward republican caucuses will be held Tuesday evening, July 28. The Fifth ward caucus will be held Wednesday evening, July 29. Don't forget the dates.

BIG CROWD SAW THE BALL GAME

Six Hundred People Saw the Irish and Germans Play.

A double play by Steed and Mulcairns won loud applause from the 600 people who saw the ball game between the German and the Irish yesterday, while a one-handed catch by Steed was another feature of the game.
At the end of the fifth inning rain put a stop to the game, and the score stood 10 to 6 in favor of the Irish. The team lined up as follows:

Germans.	Position.	Irish.
Hager.	Catcher.	T. Sullivan
Schickler.	Pitcher.	Commitis

Lincoln-Wright.

The Ocean Grove, N. J. Times gave the following account of the wedding of O. D. Lincoln, of the firm of Brown Brothers & Lincoln:

"The wedding of Miss Milly Augusta Wright, daughter of Mrs. A. L. Wright, of Ocean Grove, to Mr. Otis Deane Lincoln, of Janesville, Wis., was celebrated at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon at the pretty summer residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. D. J. Shipman, Cookman avenue, Ocean Grove.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. E. H. Stokes. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk, richly trimmed with point lace and diamond ornaments. Her bouquet was maiden-hair fern and La France roses. Miss Ella Wright, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was gowned in white silk and chiffon, and carried pink carnations. The best man was William Rile, of Brooklyn. Little Miss Alice Gerhard, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and looked charming in a dainty gown of white organdie with lace and ribbon trimmings. She carried a basket of sweet peas and smilax.

"A reception followed the ceremony. The parlors, from which daylight was excluded, were brilliantly illuminated and decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. Many handsome and valuable presents were received. The happy couple left on the 7 o'clock train for an extended wedding trip, after which they will go to their future home in Janesville, Wis.

"Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Rile, the Misses Mary, Esther and Olive Rile, John and William Rile, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bonnett, Miss Mabel Van Alst, all of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rile, Mrs. and Miss Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shipman, James Shipman and daughter Lula, Clark and Kaynor Shipman, New York City; Mrs. Sarah Wilton, Ridgefield, N. J.; Miss Kitty Eli, Peekskill, N. Y.; Miss Dora Deane, Sing Sing, N. Y.; Mrs. Frederick Day and daughter, Virginia, Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gerhard, Los Angeles, Cal.; Dr. and Mrs. Stokes, Ocean Grove; Jack Van Dorn, Trenton; Miss Little, Miss Heyman and Mr. Craig, Asbury Park.

HOT WEATHER DYSPEPSIA.

Thousands Suffer From It at This Season of the Year.

Hot weather dyspepsia may be recognized by the following symptoms: Depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, loss of flesh and appetite, no desire for food, bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, wind in stomach and bowels, irritable disposition, nervous weakness, weariness, costiveness, headache, palpitation, heartburn. It is a mistake to treat such troubles with "tonics," "blood purifiers," "cathartics," "pills," because the whole trouble is in the stomach. It is indigestion or dyspepsia and nothing else.

All these symptoms rapidly disappear when the stomach is relieved, strengthened, and cleansed by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They should be taken after meals and a few carried in the pocket to be used whenever any pain or distress is felt in the stomach. They are prepared only for stomach troubles. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are endorsed by such physicians as Dr. Harlandson, Dr. Jennison, and Dr. Mayer, because they contain the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which when taken into the stomach cause the prompt digestion of the food before it has time to ferment and sour, which is the cause of the mischief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are pleasant to take and unequalled for invalids, children and every person afflicted with imperfect digestion. It is safe to say they will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Nearly all the druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages at 50 cents. A book on stomach troubles and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Silver Strength Underestimated.

St. Louis, Mo., July 27.—George F. Washburn of Massachusetts, member of the Populist national executive committee, said last night: "The free silver movement in Massachusetts has always been underestimated, but I think a majority of its citizens are for the white metal. George F. Williams will be the candidate for governor on the free silver ticket, and while Massachusetts has never been carried by the Democrats in a presidential year, we think he stands a good show for election. Candidates for congress will be put up in each district, but the greatest fight will be for Bryan."

COUNCIL TO HOLD A BUSY SESSION

SEVERAL MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE TO COME UP.

Question of Fire Protection For Spring Brook People Likely to Be Presented—Lighting Committee May Report—Ordinance To Govern the Use of Lawn Hose.

In all probability several important matters will come up before the council at their meeting to be held tonight. The committee appointed to act with the chief engineer and devise some plan for affording fire protection to the residents of Spring Brook addition, will probably make a report, and may ask for an appropriation to carry out a plan that has been under discussion. The idea is to sink enough drive well points to allow the engine to take suction from a hydrant connected with these points. Experiments have been made, and it is said that the committee is likely to report the plan as being feasible.

Another matter that is likely to be brought to the attention of the aldermen, is the report of the lighting committee, on the petition from First ward people, asking that gas lamps be used on certain streets in connection with the electric lights now in use. The lighting committee, which is composed of Aldermen Kothman, McKey, Jones, Stearns and Burnham, held another meeting this morning, but what action was taken is not known.

Regulate Lawn Sprinkling.

An ordinance may also be presented, granting the use of city water in sprinkling lawns. There are some six or seven hundred consumers in the city, using lawn hose. If all of them should be engaged in sprinkling at once, the situation, in case of a fire, might be serious, as the engineer at the pumping station would be unable to maintain full pressure with all the faucets open. Secretary Hyzer, of the water company, has formulated a code of signals to be blown on the pumping station whistle. The signal for a fire is two blasts and the ordinance, it is said, contemplates the compelling of all water users to cease sprinkling when the alarm comes in, and until the "fire out" signal—three blasts—is blown. The ordinance provides a penalty for disregarding this signal in case of a fire.

Several other matters of importance are also likely to come up and the session will probably be a busy one.

The First, Second, Third and Fourth ward republican caucuses will be held Tuesday evening, July 28. The Fifth ward caucuses will be held Wednesday evening, July 29. Don't forget the dates.

DRINK OF CARBOLIC KILLS MRS. LANGLEY

POISON SWALLOWED BY AN INSANE WOMAN.

While the Attendant Has Her Back Turned a Rock County Asylum Patient Drinks From a Bottle of Acid—Death Follows In Three Quarters of an Hour.

It took Mrs. Anna Langley ten seconds to slip into an attendant's room at the county asylum and swallow a big dose of carbolic acid. Then she joined the unsuspecting attendant in the hall. Three quarters of an hour later she was dead.

Mrs. Langley was sent to the Rock county asylum from Waukesha. She was afflicted with suicidal mania but had never before shown herself to be dangerous.

Mrs. Jeffris, an attendant, brought a bottle of carbolic acid upstairs, about 6:45 this morning, to dress a patient's hand. She left the bottle in her room and stepped across the hall for water. She was gone but a moment. Mrs. Langley saw the chance, however, slipped into the room, drank from the bottle and sauntered out.

Mrs. Hyzer, the night watch in the woman's ward, saw Mrs. Langley come out, but suspected nothing. Mrs. Jeffris smelled carbolic acid as she crossed the hall, however, and saw Mrs. Langley's lips were seared and white. She hurried her to bed and applied antidotes but at 7:30 Mrs. Langley was dead. There seemed to be much less agony than usually accompanies death by carbolic acid poisoning. An occasional tremor was the only sign given of the fire raging within.

Justice Richardson conducted an inquest, a verdict of suicide being rendered. The jurors were O. E. Smith, Fred W. Tall, W. H. Pierce, F. R. Taylor, Charles F. Curtiss and Charles Burgess.

Mrs. Langley's relatives telegraphed that they will take her to Waukesha county for burial.

NEW CERTIFICATE SEEN HERE.

First of the New One-Dollar Bills Received by W. P. Sayles.

Very pretty bills are the new one-dollar silver certificates. They are being printed in Washington as fast as possible, but are not yet in circulation. W. P. Sayles got one today that left the printing press Saturday. R. J. Wulston got it through treasury department officials and sent it on considerably in advance of the regular distribution.

The certificates are considerably different from the five dollar certificates. The numerals in the corners are small, and most of the face is taken up by a dignified design, "History Enlightening Youth." On the reverse appear vignettes of George and Martha Washington.

"The only thing I object to about the bill is that the figures showing the denomination are too small," said a bank cashier. "Mistakes occur often enough, as it is, in handling greenbacks."

The new certificates are issued to supply the demand for small bills in moving crops. There are silver dollars enough but they are unweildy.

THEY GOT NO PAY FROM THE STRIKERS

JANESVILLE LIVERYMEN LOSE BY RENTING CARRYALLS.

One Firm Is Not Only Out the Rent, But Had to Send For the Vehicles, and Settle a Claim For Storage Before They Could Get Them.

Janesville liverymen who rented their carryalls to the Milwaukee strikers for use in opposition to the street car company, are having some difficulty in getting their vehicles back. One firm was notified that the 'busses were no longer in use, and that they could get the carryalls at any time. Regarding the payment of the rent, the writer was non-committal, saying that "another man" was attending to it. The firm wrote to the "other man," who modestly disclaimed all knowledge of matters financial, but said that still another man would pay the score. The third man said he would settle—sometime—but that he couldn't pay until the money came in. Just when that would be he didn't know. Accordingly, the firm sent two men, with teams, to Milwaukee to get the wagonettes. They hunted the town high and low and finally located the vehicles.

"These are our carryalls," said one of the men to the man in charge. "I guess we'll hitch on and take them home."

"All right," said the warehouse man. "There is a charge against them of $6 for storage, though, that you'll have to pay."

The sum was paid, and the carryalls were brought back to Janesville. Up to date, therefore, the firm is out the rent of the vehicles, at the rate of $1 a day, $6 for storage, and the cost of sending two men to the Cream city after them.

PARIS FASHIONS.

Elegant Gowns of Batiste and Muslin—The Popular Valenciennes.

Originality and elegance characterize this season's toilets. No expense or thought is spared to give them refinement and individuality. Ingenious trimmings, contrasts of color and combinations of tissues are used to all possible advantage in equipping the wide variety of costumes now worn.

Batiste and muslin gowns and gowns made entirely of embroidery are having a great success in Paris, and foulard also enjoys wide favor there, although it is not seen here very much as yet. Plain rose colored batiste composes many charming gowns. They are trimmed with pink or with white, and are profusely adorned with valenciennes insertion, white embroidery and lace. The hat accompanying one of these rose gowns is usually ornamented with pink roses or is entirely black, black hats having a decided vogue, especially with light gowns.

Valenciennes lace prevails. It is usually narrow, but is used most lavishly, entire bodices being covered with it sometimes. On rose or mauve batiste it is particularly pleasing. Speaking of mauve, the present fondness for purple tones has led to the production of some charming toilets of mauve mousseline de soie. Contrary to the generally entertained theory, mauve, lilac and similar shades are not becoming to dark persons. This color is complimentary to yellow, and therefore brings into prominence, by force of contrast, the yellow tones which are latent in every real brunette complexion. If the skin is fair enough, so that the shadows verge on purple or blue instead of on brown or yellow, mauve will prove becoming. Like pale green, it gives color to a fair, pale skin, but may be worn by a rosy one, provided the roses do not approximate to peonies.

A sketch is given of a gown of pink foulard with a printed design. The skirt has three large godets at the back, and is ornamented near the foot by two clusters of horizontal folds. The belted bodice has short, slashed basques and opens over a pointed guimpe of white guipure. There is a sort of bertha of eucalyptus green silk, edged with lace, and the shoulder knots are of pink satin, the belt of green silk. The wrinkled sleeves of foulard have frills of lace at the wrist. The collar and choux are of green gauze.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

DRESSMAKING HINTS.

Some of the Tricks and Manners of French Modistes.

Most of the newest skirts are cut so that the thread of the cloth is straight in the middle of the back. This brings two bias edges together at the side, and in order to make the skirt hang well the two breadths must be laid together flat upon a long table, without stretching the bias edges, and these must be evenly basted together without stretching them or gathering them. Place the basting along the line where the sewing is to run, and baste on in addition a strip of thin goods, very narrow and cut lengthwise of the thread. The stitching is to be made through this strip, which will prevent the seam from stretching when the skirt is on, and it will not be perceived after the seams of the skirt are pressed open with a hot iron. Where a straight edge is joined to a bias edge the strip is not necessary, as the straight edge will not stretch. In basting a bias and a straight edge together the bias edge should be next the seamstress, because the piece of goods nearer the person who is sewing is always gathered a little unconsciously.

MOURNING GOWN.

In stitching on the machine it is usually best to have the thread as loose as is compatible with firmness. A tight thread gathers the work and makes it full.

It is false economy to use cotton thread for stitching any goods save those made of cotton or linen. Sewing silk should always be used for woolen and silk material, as it looks better, sews better and is far stronger.

It is imperative that all seams be pressed open with a warm iron. The best cut and sewed gown that was ever made would not look well unless it had experienced severe ironing in the right places—that is, on all seams and sharp folds of the goods, where smoothness and flatness are a desideratum.

A suggestion for a mourning costume is given in the sketch. The gown is of dull wool, the skirt having a deep, smooth outside facing of English crepe, above which is a narrow band of the same goods. The Louis Quinze coat has short, rippled basques and opens over a plastron covered with a jabot of crepe. Crepe buttons, pocket flaps, revers and collar adorn the bodice. The sleeves are finished at the wrist by a turned back cuff of crepe, with buttons, and a frill of the same material.

WAS JUST GOING TO SAY.

But the Car Started and She Lost Her Opportunity.

They sat side by side on one of the first open street cars of the season—two middle-aged women, to whom the "art of conversation" was evidently a dear delight. According to the Detroit Free Press, the one with the bonnet with nine red roses on it started first by saying:

"And I said to Mary Ellen, says I, 'Mary Ellen, that's no way to act when John Henry is trying his best to get along.' I talked right up to her, because she needed it, and—"

"Yes, and I was going to say that—"

"Of course she needed it, and being old enough to be her mother, she'd stand it better from me than from some others, and—"

"Yes, but I was just going to say that—"

"It's pleasant to have the open cars on again, isn't it?" One can see everything. It rests me to ride on the open cars and I often come out just for the ride; but this warm weather won't last. It wouldn't surprise me to see more snow."

"No, nor me either; but what I was going to say was—"

"Did you ever see the hats and bonnets as gay as they are this spring? And don't they come high? Well, I guess! Lucy Martin got her a $20 bonnet last week and there isn't much on it, either. How she can feel like putting that much into a bonnet in their circumstances is a mystery to me. But dress is everything to some folks."

"Yes, that's so, but I was going to say—"

"Did you know that the Tynglys had a little boy. Yes, they have, and I guess the city can hardly hold Sam Tyngly. You know they've had five girls right along and no boy. I call that pretty bad luck."

"I think it is. I was just going to say that—"

"A cousin of mine once had seven little boys before she had a girl and they fairly worshiped the child when it did come. My! She was a spoiled piece. Have you noticed that the Springers are painting their house?"

"Yes, and it needed it bad enough. But I was going to say—"

"I was over to Mrs. Springer's the other day. She had her face all tied up with the neuralgia and two of the children had the mumps and they'd just got over the measles, and you know they had scarlet fever in the house all of last fall. I'd hate to have their doctor bills."

"So would I. I was going to say—"

"Oh, I get off here. Come and see me—do! I'm real glad I met you. What a nice long talk we've had, haven't we?"

"Yes, and I was going to say—"

But the car went on and she never said it.

A DREAM OF HERRICK.

[Scene: The vicarage garden at Dean Prior.]
 Lo, in my dream I saw a shady lawn,
 Whereon I lay at sweet-tongued Herrick's
 feet,
 A group of maidens, glorious as the dawn,
 Plumed a snow-white board with dainties
 sweet.

Over the ivied wall I spied Tap's head,
 Who sold his mother's spectacles for beer;
 Irreverent Gryll, who ne'er a grace hath said,
 And Bunce, who owes the poet still, stood near.

These all asape surveyed the table spread
 With country dishes—cresses from the stream
 Flanked by rich piles of berries, black and red,
 And silver junket crowned with golden cream.

The rustic banquet o'er, fair Julia ran
 Within the house the poet's lute to bring;
 The maidens sitting round us sewed and sang,
 And in their queenly manner bade us sing.

I took the lute from Julia's shapely hand,
 And sang of her whose plighting ring I wore,
 My Phyllis—fairest maid in all the land!
 Inspired, I sang as ne'er I sang before.

Then Herrick followed, and with easy grace
 He sang of Julia's breath, Anthea's charms,
 Of Dianeme's form, Electra's face,
 And all the gracious curves of Silvia's arms.

Willing I was to own the master voice,
 Unwilling that my love should share my fall,
 When Herrick's whisper made my heart rejoice—
 "Thy Phyllis doth, I own, excel them all!"

MISS YOUGHAL'S SAIS

Some people say that there is no romance in India. Those people are wrong. Our lives hold quite as much romance as is good for us. Sometimes more.

Strickland was in the police, and people did not understand him, so they said he was a doubtful sort of a man and passed by on the other side. Strickland had himself to thank for this. He held the extraordinary theory that a policeman in India should try to know as much about the natives as the natives themselves. Now, in the whole of upper India there is only one man who can pass for Hindoo or Mohammedan, chamar or fakir, as he pleases. He is feared and respected by the natives from the Ghor Kathri to the Jamma Musjid, and he is supposed to have the gift of invisibility and executive control over many devils. But what good has this done him with the government? None in the world. He has never got Simla for his charge, and his name is almost unknown to Englishmen.

Strickland was foolish enough to take that man for his model, and, following out his absurd theory, dabbled in unsavory places no respectable man would think of exploring—all among the native riffraff. He educated himself in this peculiar way for seven years, and people could not appreciate it.

His crowning achievement was spending 11 days as a fakir in the gardens of Baba Atal at Amritsar, and there picking up the threads of the great Nasiban murder case. But people said, justly enough, "Why on earth can't Strickland sit in his office and write up his diary and recruit and keep quiet, instead of showing up the incapacity of his seniors?"

So the Nasiban murder case did him no good departmentally, but, after his first feeling of wrath, he returned to his outlandish custom of prying into native life. By the way, when a man once acquires a taste for this particular amusement, it abides with him all his days. It is the most fascinating thing in the world, love not excepted. Where other men took ten days to the hills, Strickland took leave for what he called shikar, put on the disguise that appealed to him at the time, stepped down into the brown crowd and was swallowed up for awhile. He was a quiet, dark young fellow—spare, black-eyed—and, when he was not thinking of something else, a very interesting companion. Strickland, on native progress as he had seen it, was worth hearing. Natives hated Strickland, but they were afraid of him. He knew too much.

When the Youghals came into the station, Strickland—very gravely, as he did everything—fell in love with Miss Youghal, and she, after awhile, fell in love with him because she could not understand him. Then Strickland told the parents, but Mrs. Youghal said she was not going to throw her daughter into the worst paid department in the empire, and old Youghal said, in so many words, that he mistrusted Strickland's ways and works and would thank him not to speak or write to his daughter any more.

"Very well," said Strickland, for he did not wish to make his lady love's life a burden. After one long talk with Miss Youghal he dropped the business entirely.

The Youghals went up to Simla in April.

In July Strickland secured three months' leave on "urgent private affairs." He locked up his house—though not a native in the province would willingly have touched Estrekin Sahib's gear for the world—and went down to see a friend of his, an old dyer, at Tarn Taran.

Here all trace of him was lost, until a sais met me on the Simla mall with this extraordinary note:

DEAR OLD MAN—Please give bearer a box of cheroots—supers, No. 1, for preference. They are freshest at the club. I'll repay when I reappear, but at present I am out of society. Yours,
 E. STRICKLAND.

I ordered two boxes and handed them over to the sais with my love. That sais was Strickland, and he was in old Youghal's employ, attached to Miss Youghal's Arab. The poor fellow was suffering for an English smoke and knew that whatever happened I should hold my tongue till the business was over.

Later on, Mrs. Youghal, who was wrapped up in her servants, began talking at houses where she called of her paragon among saises—the man who was never too busy to get up in the morning and pick flowers for the breakfast table and who blacked—actually blacked—the hoofs of his horse like a London coachman! The turnout of Miss Youghal's Arab was a wonder and a delight. Strickland—Dulloo. I mean—found his reward in the pretty things that Miss Youghal said to him when she went out riding. Her parents were pleased to find she had forgotten all her foolishness for young Strickland and said she was a good girl.

Strickland vows that the two months of his service were the most rigid mental discipline he has ever gone through. Quite apart from the little fact that the wife of one of his fellow saises fell in love with him and then tried to poison him with arsenic because he would have nothing to do with her, he had to school himself into keeping quiet when Miss Youghal went out riding with some man who tried to flirt with her, and he was forced to trot behind carrying the blanket and hearing every word! Also he had to keep his temper when he was slanged in "Benmore" porch by a policeman—especially once when he was abused by a Naik he had himself recruited from Isser Jang village, or, worse still, when a young subaltern called him a pig for not making way quickly enough.

Thus he served faithfully as Jacob served for Rachel, and his leave was nearly at an end when the explosion came. He had really done his best to keep his temper in the hearing of the flirtations I have mentioned, but he broke down at last. An old and very distinguished general took Miss Youghal for a ride and began that specially offensive "you're only a little girl" sort of flirtation most difficult for a woman to turn aside deftly and most maddening to listen to. Miss Youghal was shaking with fear at the things he said in the hearing of her saís. Dulloo—Strickland—stood it as long as he could. Then he caught hold of the general's bridle, and, in most fluent English, invited him to step off and be heaved over the cliff. Next minute Miss Youghal began crying, and Strickland saw that he had hopelessly given himself away and everything was over.

The general nearly had a fit, while Miss Youghal was sobbing out the story of the disguise and the engagement that wasn't recognized by the parents. Strickland was furiously angry with himself and more angry with the general for forcing his hand, so he said nothing, but held the horse's head and prepared to thrash the general as some sort of satisfaction, but when the general had thoroughly grasped the story and knew who Strickland was, he began to puff and blow in the saddle and nearly rolled off with laughing. He said Strickland deserved a V. C., if it were only for putting on a saís' blanket. Then he called himself names and vowed that he deserved a thrashing, but he was too old to take it from Strickland. Then he complimented Miss Youghal on her lover. The scandal of the business never struck him, for he was a nice old man, with a weakness for flirtations. Then he laughed again and said that old Youghal was a fool.

Strickland let go of the cob's head and suggested that the general had better help them, if that was his opinion. Strickland knew Youghal's weakness for men with titles and letters after their names and high official position. "It's rather like a 40 minute farce," said the general, "but, begad, I will help, if it's only to escape that tremendous thrashing I deserved. Go along to your home, my saís policeman, and change into decent kit, and I'll attack Mr. Youghal. Miss Youghal, may I ask you to canter home and wait?"

About seven minutes later there was a wild hurroosh at the club. A saís, with blanket and head rope, was asking all the men he knew, "For heaven's sake lend me decent clothes!" As the men did not recognize him, there were some peculiar scenes before Strickland could get a hot bath, with soda in it, in one room, a shirt here, a collar there, a pair of trousers elsewhere, and so on. He galloped off, with half the club wardrobe on his back and an utter stranger's pony under him, to the house of old Youghal.

The general, arrayed in purple and fine linen, was before him. What the general had said Strickland never knew, but Youghal received Strickland with moderate civility, and Mrs. Youghal, touched by the devotion of the transformed Dulloo, was almost kind. The general beamed and chuckled, and Miss Youghal came in, and, almost before old Youghal knew where he was, the parental consent had been wrangled out and Strickland had departed with Miss Youghal to the telegraph office to wire for his kit. The final embarrassment was when an utter stranger attacked him on the mall and asked for the stolen pony.

So, in the end, Strickland and Miss Youghal were married, on the strict understanding that Strickland should drop his old ways and stick to department routine, which pays best and leads to Simla. Strickland was far too fond of his wife just then to break his word, but it was a sore trial to him; for the streets and the bazaars and the sounds in them were full of meaning to Strickland, and these called to him to come back and take up his wanderings and his discoveries.

Some day I will tell you how he broke his promise to help a friend. That was long since, and he has, by this time, been nearly spoiled for what he would call shikar. He is forgetting the slang, and the beggar's cant, and the marks, and the signs, and the drift of the undercurrents, which, if a man would master, he must always continue to learn.

But he fills in his departmental returns beautifully. —Rudyard Kipling.

Making It Easy.

An American tourist recently tramping through Cornwall met some members of a village church choir returning from rehearsal. He asked one of them what music they had been singing. The answer was "Handel." "Well," said he, "but don't you find Handel rather difficult?" "Why, no, sir," replied the Cornishman, "not very. You see, we alters him." —New York Tribune.
